

The Graduate Admission Process

The Graduate School centrally supports the graduate admission process. All applicants are required to complete and online graduate application. Academic programs make acceptance decisions, and pending final review of academic credentials (and financial status of international applicants), the Graduate School will formally admit accepted applicants to the university. The minimum requirements for acceptance to all graduate programs and the basic admission process is outlined below.

1. To be admitted to MU’s graduate programs, an applicant must have:

- Earned at least a bachelor’s degree or equivalent from a college or university recognized by a regional accrediting agency. Colleges and universities from outside the United States must be recognized as degree granting institutions by their country’s ministry of education.
- Earned a 3.0 or better grade point average in the last 60 hours of baccalaureate coursework (for applicants with less than a master’s degree).
- Acceptable English language proficiency test scores (for international and non-native English-speaking applicants only). See this link for more details on test score requirements and waiver request opportunities.
 - TOEFL IBT: minimum 80 internet-based, with no sub score below 17
 - IELTS: minimum 6.5 academic score, with no subscore below 6.0
 - Pearson Test of English: minimum 59
 - Cambridge C1 Advanced: minimum 180
 - Duolingo English Test: 105
- International applicants must show minimum level of funding for their first year of study:

Spring 2022, Summer 2022, Fall 2022: $40,355.00

See <https://international.missouri.edu/iss/current-students/expenses-and-funding/> (Graduates) for a breakdown of required minimum funding.

2. As soon as academic programs have reached a decision (Accept or Deny), the academic program should communicate the decision to the Graduate School using the “Department Application Decision Form”, associated with each applicant record in gradSlate. More information can be found at this link.
3. After the Graduate School receives the academic program decision, applicant files will be reviewed to ensure the applicants meet minimum requirements for admission. If applicants meet the minimum criteria, the Graduate School will communicate the official admission electronically through gradSlate. If needed, the Graduate School will also issue immigration documents for international applicants.

The Graduate School has three Graduate Admission Advisors who each manage applicant files for an alphabetical range based on the first letter of the applicant’s last name. If you have questions or need assistance, please contact the appropriate Admission Advisor listed below.
