

Queries are targeted searches, such as a search designed to look specifically for applicants from the state of Missouri. Exports are composed of data fields which can be drawn out and analyzed from a query. In Slate, the query and export features are tied together. When we set up a query looking for a specific population, we will also be indicating the fields which need to be exported.

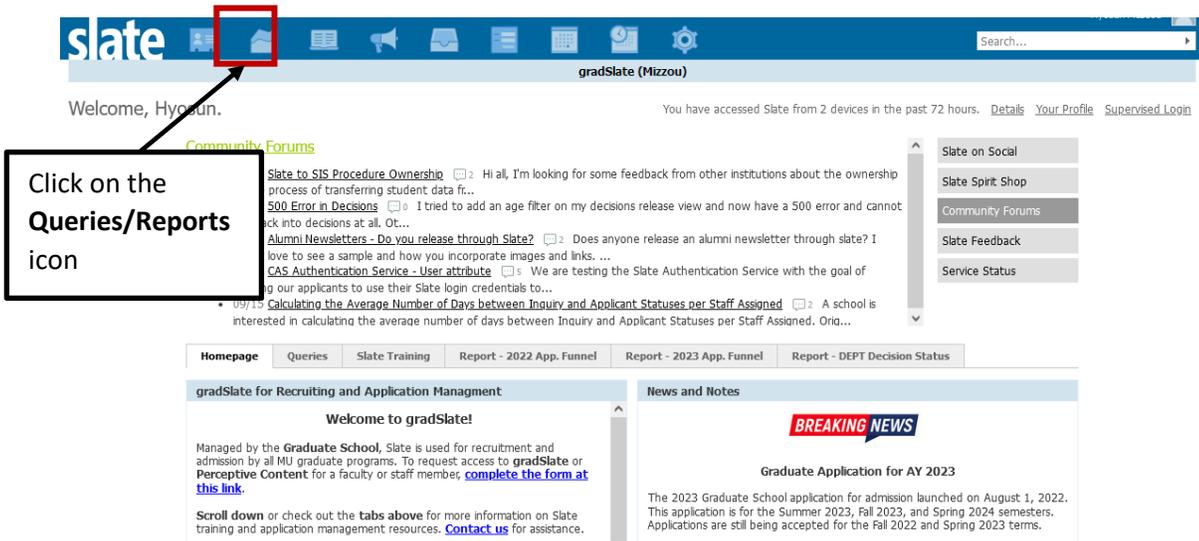

In this packet, we will take a very basic look at queries and exports, and how you can use queries in Slate to find your program’s applications for admission. Creating queries and exports will be addressed in a later, advanced training piece.

Currently, a number of queries are available in Slate for use by all graduate programs. Below is a step by step example of how to run a query/export for completed applications for a specific semester. Please note that we have masked sensitive applicant data where necessary.

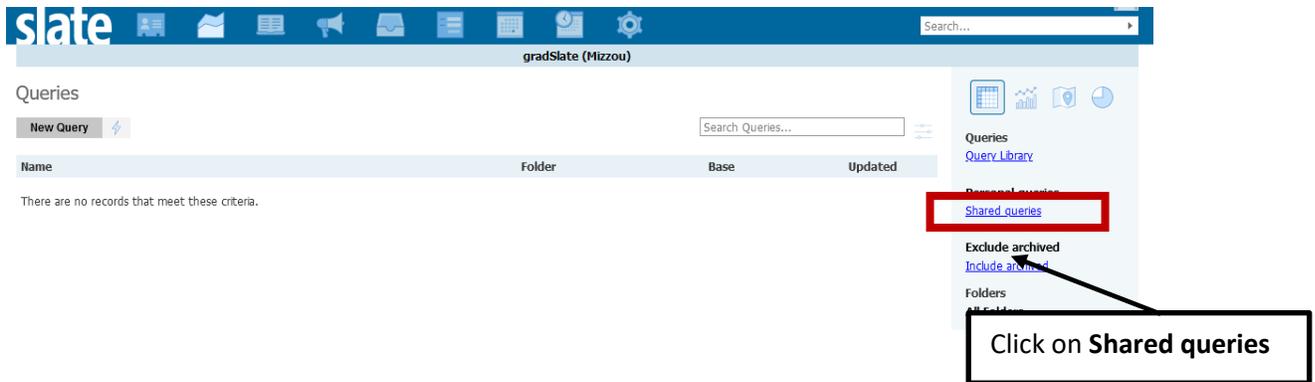

- Go to <https://applygrad.missouri.edu/manage/> to log in to Slate, using your Mizzou Paw Print and password. If you do not have an active account, contact gradadmin@missouri.edu .

- From the Slate homepage, click on the Queries/Reports icon at the top of the screen.

- Click on Shared queries link in the right navigation column.

- Click on the Entrance Terms (Shared- DO NOT EDIT) link in the right navigation column.

The screenshot shows the gradSlate (Mizzou) interface. At the top, there is a search bar and a navigation menu. Below the search bar, there is a 'Queries' section with a 'New Query' button and a search field. A table lists various queries with columns for Name, Folder, Base, and Updated. On the right side, there is a navigation sidebar with links for 'All Folders', 'Commencement', 'Data Exports', 'Decisions (Shared-DO NOT EDIT)', and 'Entrance Terms (Shared- DO NOT EDIT)'. A callout box with a black border and white background points to the 'Entrance Terms (Shared- DO NOT EDIT)' link, which is highlighted with a red box.
